

Chatham County Soldiers

Good news, mothers, good news,
Your sons will no more roam,
The war has ended, fighting is done
And your boys are coming home.

Corporal Jack Lanus was in a French hospital recovering from a slight wound when peace was declared. It is hoped that he has fully recovered by now.

Mr. Marvin Dezern is at his home here from the camp at Long Island, New York, on a 30-day furlough. Mr. Dezern was seriously sick about a month ago with pneumonia, and at one time his life was despaired of. His father, Mr. Cal Dezern, was with him at the time.

Mr. David B. Moore has received his discharge papers and came home one day last week from Camp Johnston to spend a few days with his mother here before returning to Rock Hill, S. C., where he was living when he entered the army.

Thanksgiving at Camp Jackson.

Sergeant M. D. Burns, of Camp Jackson, tells in a letter to his sister, Mrs. C. M. Eddins, how he spent Thanksgiving Day:

"Would have written sooner but have been awful busy. Had to put on a big dinner Thanksgiving and it was some trouble, believe me. But I sure did give the boys a nice dinner. It was out of eight different messes and cost $209.-85. I gave them 250 pounds of turkey, beside all of the other dishes, of which there were 22 different varieties. And, believe me, when I got it on the table it was some table to look at. I wish you could have been here to have seen it. Don't know when I will get to come home. Hope to eat dinner with some of you Christmas. I can tell you many things when I come home. This leaves me well."

One of the happiest moments of a person's life is when something very dear to them, and were not thinking about, unexpectedly happens. Such was the case last Sunday morning when Mr. Norwood Eubanks, who had been stationed at Camp Hancock, drove into town and came face to face with his parents returning from church. It is unnecessary to state that a happy meeting took place right then and there. Mr. Eubanks received his discharge from the army last Friday.

A telegram was received by Mrs. James C. Boone, who lives north of town, notifying her that her son, Corporal John E. Boone, had been severely wounded in action November 7th, four days before the armistice had been declared. A later telegram states that Corporal Boone was wounded in three places, but that he was getting on all right, having never missed a single meal.

Mr. Victor Harris, who was reported killed in battle in France last spring, is at his home near Bynum. Mr. Harris was wounded in his hand which incapacitated him from duty.

Colon Pattishall, of Oakland township, has returned from Camp Jackson, having been granted an honorable discharge.

Among the returned soldiers is Walter Glenn, of this township, whose command was on the point of leaving for France when peace was declared. Others who have returned are E. P. Clegg, student at the army training camp at Trinity College, Letson Nooe from Camp Gordon, Ga., and Eurie Clark.

Lieut. Jesse F. Milliken, who has been stationed at Camp Meade, Md., returned here last Tuesday, having been honorably discharged from the service. His friends are pleased to see him looking so well.

A letter has been received from Clyde Burns stating that he was safe and sound.

Mr. R. P. Johnson yesterday received a letter from his son, Victor Johnson, who is overseas, stating that he is well. This letter was written after peace was declared. Mr. Johnson, in his letter, states that Mr. Charles Moore has been slightly wounded in the arm.
