Historic Chatham County Courthouse

9 Hillsboro Street, Pittsboro

The Chatham County Courthouse burned on March 25, 2010. It reopened April 20, 2013, as the Historic Courthouse with the Chatham Historical Museum.

So, 2023 is the 10th Anniversary of the Historic Courthouse Reopening. Join us at 2pm to hear Grimsley and Taylor Hobbs, the architects who rebuilt the courthouse, talk about the process of reclaiming and restoring the building after the devastating fire that consumed the interior.

After the program, join us downstairs for light refreshments to celebrate the 10th Anniversary of the reopening of the wonderful, restored Historic Courthouse and Chatham Historical Museum.

April 2nd is also First Sunday in downtown Pittsboro so there will be lots to do before and after the Program.

Admission to the program and Museum are free and everyone is welcome.

Can't make it to the program? Join us by a Zoom live streaming.

Chatham County Historical Association members who have an email on file will receive a link and instructions to access the Zoom meeting. Any remaining slots will be made available to the general public at 1:45 PM, on Sunday, April 2. Visit the CCHA Facebook page: <https://www.facebook.com/ChathamCountyHistoricalMuseum/> at that time for instructions on how to join the presentation via Zoom.
