

Country Brunch Fundraiser to Preserve Chatham County History

Calling on everyone who values Chatham County history to play a part in helping to preserve and share it! Here's an easy and fun way that you can help the Chatham County Historical Association do just that!

Help us complete the restoration of a historic smokehouse, enjoy a great meal, and get some holiday shopping done—all at the same time. How-When-Where?

CCHA volunteers will be cooking and serving up a hearty breakfast/lunch/brunch of country ham, bacon, biscuits, gravy, grits, pancakes, eggs, and beverage and offering some unique gifts for sale and raffle. Come—enjoy—and give us your support! Take out also available!

Help us complete this important work!*

Brunch will be served from 9am to 1pm and during that time we'll have gift-worthy items on display and available for purchase or for raffle.

We'll be selling preserves from Chatham's own Southern Supreme with all proceeds going to—you got it—preserve Chatham history! Also available will be a number of historical publications and holiday ornaments that make great gifts for the Chatham County folks on your holiday list. Bring a list and order some gift memberships for your favorite Chatham people. Buy some raffle tickets to win a delicious smoked turkey breast from Siler City's Brookwood Farms! You don't have to be present to win. Do a little holiday shopping after your meal, or come just to shop (no admission charge). We'll close at 1pm.

Proceeds will help CCHA complete restoration of a mid-1800s smokehouse that has been returned to the Agriculture and Conference Center property where it stood for more than 150 years. There it will serve as an educational feature honoring Chatham's agricultural history. Learn more about the smokehouse project—our most ambitious since the museum—here.

Tickets can be purchased from the CCHA board members, or at the Chatham Historical Museum during museum hours (Wed-Fri, 11-4) – payment there by cash or check only. Tickets will also be available at the door.

Join the fun and be a part of this important project!
